

Food and cooking

If you're interested in finding out a bit more about how to cook, or even just looking for some new recipes, then the internet is a good place to start.

Type 'Delia Online' into a search engine, such as Google
<http://www.deliaonline.com>

Select a skill from the Learn to Cook tab, or click on Recipes, and select by Main Ingredient, Season, Type of Dish or Occasion.
 Or search for a recipe by ingredient or key word

Find the recipe for Chocolate Fudge Cake. To print the page, click on the Print link at the top of the recipe.
 Now have a go at making the cake.

Another popular website is BBC Good Food
www.bbcgoodfood.com

As with Delia Online, recipes are divided into categories. There are lots of recipes geared to cooking with or for kids, as well as kitchen store cupboard activities like making salt dough, slime, bath bombs and bubbles.

You can also subscribe to the Good Food newsletter, download the free recipe app and listen to the podcast.

There are lots of other recipe sites – here are a few to get you started

- <http://www.wikihow.com/Cook>
- <http://www.jamieoliver.com/recipes>
- <http://www.nigella.com/recipes>
- <http://www.bakingmad.com>
- <https://www.slimmingworld.co.uk/recipes>

Also, there are hundreds to 'how to' videos on You Tube to help improve your cooking skills – just go to You Tube and search. Here is a link to Gordon Ramsay's 10 Incredibly Useful Cooking Tips: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=wHRXUeVsAQQ>

Libraries NI is not endorsing or promoting any product, service or company mentioned in this document and other products are available